DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 1-15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being incomplete for omitting essential structures or structural cooperative relationships of elements, such omission amounting to a gap between the necessary structural connections. See MPEP § 2172.01. The omitted structural cooperative relationships are: the operability of the claimed invention is uncertain since there is no sufficient information as how the elements forming the "retractable handle assembly" are structurally and functionally related to one another to render the assembly operable. For example, it cannot be understood what is being defined as "a controller" or "an engagement portion". Therefore, the claim fails to show a complete, operable device that is capable of performing as "A retractable handle assembly" as stated in the preamble of the claim. Note similar errors in claim 15.

In claim 2, line 2, it is not clear what is defined as "a distal end of the tube". There are multiple tubes.

In claim 3, line 2, it is not clear which one the "engagement portion" is referring to. There are more than one engagement portions.

In claim 7, "a transmission" cannot be structurally or functionally understood.

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 1-15 would be allowable if rewritten or amended to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action.

Conclusion

4. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
